Let the Father Guide Your Life as Well

John 5:19

The focal point of this text is Jesus did what He saw the Father in heaven doing. Jesus of Nazareth demonstrated what it meant to live in the will of the Father. He showed by His actions that God was in charge of His life. His life was not his own; He did nothing of himself. He was an echo of a higher will, a reflection of the light of God. He only did what He saw His Father do. His actions were not dictated by personal ambitions or earthly desires. All His actions were instructions from God. The Son of God took the words of Proverbs 3:5-6 to heart. He followed them explicitly. "Trust in the Lord with all your heart," says Proverbs 3:5-6, "and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight." These were the verses that Jesus lived by, his guiding principles.

This scripture has importance in this 21st century. It carries a message for anyone who is struggling to manage their lives. This scripture leads those who find themselves lost to the source of all knowledge and wisdom.

This scripture tells those who find themselves adrift amid the twists and turns of life that there is someone who can and will guide them. There is someone who understands their circumstances and their trials. No one must walk through life alone. No one must figure life out alone. There is a Father who cares for you right now, right where you are.

As we travel through this life, we must maintain communication with God. For God is our compass in our times of confusion. God is our Rock when the world around us is crumbling. God is our friend when the world has turned its back on us. Our God has never failed to strengthen those who trust Him. Our prayers should not be our last resort but our first response. We should not pray occasionally but prayer should become a lifestyle.

Moreover, it is important that we immerse ourselves in God's Word. Just as a lamp lights up a dark path, God's Word illuminates our lives. It guides us in those times when finding our way is difficult. His Word provides hope in times of despair, and wisdom when we cannot think straight. God's Word equips us with the spiritual armor we need to face the world. The Bible is not just a book. The Bible is the living, breathing Word of God.

In a world that changes with every tick of the clock, where truth is a lie, and where love is drowned by hate, we need the constant, unchanging presence of God. That can only come through an unbroken communication with Him. We should be guided by a deep relationship with the Father. This is a vital necessity for Christians traveling through this world.
